RIVERS IN MY VEINS

Kara Briggs

Celebrate Native American Heritage Month with us by welcoming Sauk-Suiattle/Yakama Author, Kara Briggs

Introducing Tulalip resident and Sauk-Suiattle/Yakama author Kara Briggs.

A career journalist for two decades telling the stories of Western U.S from two leading regional newspapers before launching a popular column in ICT News about cancer in tribal communities, while battling and surviving cancer herself. She has worked with tribes from Arizona to Alaska in various professional roles and now serves as Vice President of Tribal Lands and Waters Stewardship at Ecotrust; a nonprofit for which she works with tribes across the West Coast. River in my Veins is Kara's first collection of poetry.
